

Private initiative Action Plan – Torreblanca, Castellón, a hub for international societal transformation

Paul Elvere DELSART is a French social engineer, writer, strategist, and eco-entrepreneur, founder of the international EL4DEV program.

His ambition: to create an alternative model of societal development based on ethics, ecology, innovation, and decentralized cooperation.

Since 2024, Torreblanca (Castellón, Spain) has become the chosen international headquarters of the Think and Do Tank LE PAPILLON SOURCE EL4DEV, making the municipality an international pilot territory.

Overall objective

To transform Torreblanca into a Mediterranean pilot center for societal transformation, mobilizing youth and citizens around a common project of territorial, ecological, educational, and cultural renewal.

Strategic positioning

- First Mediterranean municipality to host the headquarters of the Green Empire of the East and the West, also known as the EL4DEV Confederation
- International benchmark for societal and sustainable development

Economic revitalization

- Creation of local jobs (environment, agroecology, alternative construction, tourism, participatory experimental education)
- Development of high-value-added ethical and educational tourism
- Development of immersive fictional tourism, inspired by utopia and rich in symbolic content
- Self-sufficiency, independence, and new revenue streams for the municipality through LE PAPILLON SOURCE shared infrastructures

Cooperation and visibility

- Decentralized partnerships with small municipalities in the Valencian Community, across Spain, Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Americas
- Hosting of international events (conferences, exhibitions, festivals, performances, symposiums)
- Increased national and international media and institutional visibility

Environment & resilience

- Sustainable management of natural resources
- Ecological enhancement
- Implementation of functional and aesthetic sustainable landscapes

LAUNCH OF STRUCTURING, EXPERIMENTAL, AND MULTIFUNCTIONAL PROJECTS

A. Construction of the first “Vegetal Calderas”

- Location: Peripheral or interstitial zone of Torreblanca
- Uses: Environmental education, food production, local tourism, natural therapy

B. Creation of a Mini LE PAPILLON SOURCE complex

- A space for training, meetings, and citizen research
- Hosting exhibitions, conferences, and educational stays

C. Participation in the intermunicipal cooperation program “THE MUNICIPALITIES COUNTER-ATTACK”

- Creation of a local Societal Economic Interest Grouping with other small municipalities in Castellón, the Valencian Community, and Spain
- Resource pooling to co-finance infrastructures
- Sharing of economic benefits
- National and international visibility

This action plan places Torreblanca at the heart of the Second EL4DEV Renaissance Movement, mobilizing its residents around a collective project rooted in meaning, innovation, solidarity, and local sovereignty. It is replicable in other small Mediterranean towns, thus creating a network of territories committed to sustainable global transformation.

Why get involved?

Torreblanca has the opportunity to become a Mediterranean model of territorial renaissance – a living laboratory for ecological, social, and educational transition.

Every resident, every young person can play an active role in this historic transformation.

Join the Green Empire of the East and the West (a symbolic, fictional empire) – Let’s cooperate for an ethical and prosperous future.
